Tacy Nguyen is a consultant at Straife. A former medical practitioner, she is now a successful Dallas-based entrepreneur and international business development expert.

Tacy collaborates with manufacturers and technocrats from Dubai, China, the Philippines, Vietnam, Singapore, Nepal, and India, supplying major companies like Costco, Walmart, and Whole Foods.

With strong business connections in Asia, the UAE, and the U.S., she excels in international business and collaboration.

Partnering with David Stedman, Tacy has ventured into entertainment, including a proposed $1 billion amusement park in Houston and a chain of film studio/backlot producers. She is also pioneering in emerging technologies, developing AI curriculum for universities and virtual assistant services, earning a reputation for integrity and extensive international contacts.

As the founder of MYVIET INC, she operates immigration offices across Arlington, Dallas, Houston, Irving, Garland, New York and Vietnam. She launched a high-profile, large-format magazine focused on upscale business leadership in Texas, and has expanded into public relations, and business development.
